Abilities

Hand Owning's PDA A handheld device with an image of a hand holding a playing card engraved on the back. Can be used to remotely monitor a computer system, if the system is hacked first. Requires 30 seconds uninterrupted hacking roleplay at a computer system to connect the device to the system. The connection only requires 10 seconds to establish if performed by a character with the 'Hacker' skill. The device can then be used at any time to monitor the connected system, and send it simple commands. Only one computer system can be connected at a time. The connection expires if the device and computer system go out of range of each other. The exact distance is at GM discretion, but in general will not exceed the size of a city. (It is certainly not interplanetary!)

Treasure Scanner: With 5 seconds of appropriate scanning roleplay (requires a free hand), you may call SCAN TREASURE. (Per normal SCAN rules, it is up to the target whether they think they classify. Actual value of treasure not guaranteed; booty is in the eye of the beholder.)
